With over 579 acres of land and 11.29 miles of trails the Fenton Tract is the largest forested tract that the University of Connecticut owns within walking distance of the Storrs Campus. The Fenton Tract’s primary purpose is teaching and research, but it also provides ample recreational access for hikers, bikers, birders, and more. Please enjoy the trail system in a respectful manner.